

Contents

Introduction .....	1
1. Migration, Exclusion, and Strategies of Resistance .....	6
2. The Period of the Manila Galleon: Chinese and Spaniards in the Philippines .....	11
2.1. The Philippines as an Axis of Global Trade and Space of Conflict, Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries .....	16
2.2. Transpacific Asian Migration to Continental New Spain .....	25
2.3. The Philippines of the Eighteenth Century: Consolidation, Miscegenation and the Regulation of Migration .....	27
3. Forced Migration and Voluntary Migration in the Modern Age .....	35
3.1. From the Age of Revolution to the Great Migrations .....	35
3.2. The Coolie Trade – an Intermediate Step toward Voluntary Labor? .....	38
3.3. What is Free Migration? .....	46
3.4. Asian Immigration as a Part of the Free Migration to the Americas .....	50
4. Free Migration of Chinese to the United States .....	53
4.1. In Search of the Gold Mountain .....	53
4.2. The First Phase of Discrimination of Chinese Immigrants (1848–c. 1865) .....	61
4.3. Building the Transcontinental Railroad and a Time of Hope during the Reconstruction Era .....	77
4.4. The 1870s: A Time of Change .....	87

5. Inter-American Entanglements: Spreading Xenophobia? ....	95
5.1. Transregional Exclusion: USA and Latin America .....	95
5.2. Transpacific Cooperation between Asia and Latin America and Resistance in the Late Nineteenth Century .....	101
5.3. Circular Migration and Transnational Networks .....	104
5.4. Hegemonic Power and the Proliferation of Policies of Exclusion in the Americas .....	105
Conclusions .....	115
Works Cited .....	121